KEYNOTE: Children, Technology & Play in the 21st Century: What Do We Do Now - Daniel Donahoo

This presentation will help to grow your understanding of the role of technology in children's lives. Daniel will unpack where our thinking and ideas about children and technology have come from and how we can help shape the role of technology in children's lives to be a positive and worthwhile one. The presentation will look at the way children's engagement of technology shifts significantly across early childhood and into early primary years – and challenges all of us to consider how we support families to better use technology in relation to children's lives. Daniel's exploration and sharing of evidence-based research is complimented with rich practice stories that will offer many inspiring ideas and an understanding of what play-based learning looks like when technology is involved.
